INTRODUCTION

Joseph Mitchell[11] Kellogg (Lyman Beecher[10], Hiram[9], Horace[8], Loomis[7], Stephen[6], Stephen[5], Stephen[4], Joseph[3], Martin[2], Philippe[1]) was born in Emporia, Kansas, September 26, 1885, and was a graduate of Cornell University. Our sole biography of him indicates only that in 1937 he was unmarried, and a Professor of Architectural Design at the University of Kansas, and Head of its Department of Agriculture.

Many of his genealogical works are in the collection of the Local History Department of the Berkshire Athenaeum in Pittsfield, Massachusetts. His compilations of Sheffield [Mass.] Vital and Cemetery Records, Egremont [Mass.] Cemetery Records, as well as material concerning the Kellogg family have long been an integral part of the collection.

This book represents the contents of four notebook manuscripts of material [also part of the Athenaeum collection] which was researched by Mr. Kellogg in 1945. In presenting his work, we have been as faithful as possible to the original in regard to layout, spacing, punctuation, etc., with departures only in the case of handwritten lines that were too long to fit within acceptable margins. Nothing was edited and no corrections were attempted.

The maps and signatures appearing in the Appendix are enhanced tracings from the original documents in the Massachusetts State Archives. Enhancement was necessary in order to present sharp, legible reproductions.

THE KARNER FAMILY

(Koerner, Kerner, Carner, etc.)

With notes on the Stiever-Stüber Family and the Van Gilder (Van Gelder, Van Guilder, etc.) Family

From original and published records.

(From Notebook #1)

THE KARNER FAMILY

The Karner family of the town of Egremont in Berkshire Co. Mass., was originally of German-Palatine origin. The immigrant ancestor in this country was:

Nicholas Koerner

who came to New York in the great Palatine company of 1710.

From "Early Palatine Emigration", by Knittle.

In the original lists of immigrants from Holland which he gives (in appendix):

In the 3rd party, embarking June 5-10, 1709:

Nicolaes Kormer, vrouw & 4 (children)

In the 2nd party, sailing May 23, 1709:

Wolf Kernar, vrouw & 2 (ch.)

Anna Maria Kerner (in). -

In the 5th party:

Jacob Staüber, vrouw & 1 (ch.)

Mattys Stiever, vrouw & 2 (ch.)

From similar lists of Palatines published in the N.Y. Gen. & Biog. Record, - but as they arrived in England: (also pub. in "A Book of Names" - MacWethy)

In the 3rd list:

John Nicol Koerner and wife husbandman and vinedresser - aged 50. Reformed religion.

Children: 2 sons - 6 and 3 yrs old

2 daus. 9 and 4 " "

In the 2nd list:

Wolf Koerner and wife

husbandman and vinedresser, aged 30. - Lutheran religion.

Children: 2 sons - 4 and 2 yrs old. (no daughters)

Maria Koerner

unmarried, aged 24.

In the 4th list:

John Koerner

a joiner - aged 33 - Lutheran.

(alone)

From Knittle's book:

In the Subsistence lists for the Palatines in New York in 1710 - (a portion also pub. in Doc. Hist. of N.Y. vol. 3):

Niclaus Körner - (see also page 4 of this book)

In 1710 he had 2 "adults" (over 10 yrs) and 4 under 10 yrs.

" 1712 " " 4 " " " " and 1 " " " .

Jacob Stuber

In 1710 he had 3 "adults" (over 10) and 1 under 10 yrs.

" 1712 " " 3 " " " " 1 " " " .

Henrick Balthasar Stuber

In 1710 he had 1 adult and 0 under 10 yrs !

" 1712 " " 2 " " 0 " " "

Note: (Since Balthasar Stuber-Stiever did not appear on the Dutch or English lists in 1709, and now first in 1710 is single and in 1712 apparently just married, it seems probable that he was the eldest son of Jacob Stuber-Stiever, now beginning his own family) J.M.K.

From Knittle's book:
In the Ulrich Simmendinger list of Palatines dated 1717 (originally pub. then 1717 & now reprinted by MacWethy):
Nicholas Körner, wife Magdalena and 4 Children. living in "Beckmansland" - (identified as either West Camp - on west side of Hudson - Nick. K. was in the West Camp in the 1710 Ford list - or more probably Rhinebeck on the east side of the river).
Jacob Stuber, "wife and children" (not named or numbered) living in "Hunderston" - that is the East Camp or Germantown on the east side of the Hudson.
Balthasar Stieber, wife and 1 child (not named).
living in "Wormsdorf" - identified as Annsbery - in the Livingston Manor - east side of the river.
Also - in Hunterstown was Sebastian Spickerman, wife & ch.
" in Haysbury (East Camp) was Johann Herman Speickerman with wife Anna Catherine & 4 ch.
They were associated with the Stiever family - had also appeared on the 1710 Ford list & the Dutch embarkation lists -
In the meantime (from 1710-1720), the early church records of the region show other notices of these families:

In the North part of the Manor of Livingston the list includes:

Jacob Stover
Bastian Spikerman

At that time there were no "freeholders" in Germantown, or in the eastern part of the Manor - (North of the bounds of the Manor was a wilderness).

It was about 1715 that many Palatines & others from the Livingstone Manor moved to Claverack or that region.

The seat of the Manor might be said to be at Linlithgow (near present village of Livingstone), where Robert Livingston built a church in 1721. - In a vault under the chapel, he is buried (died 1728), and other Livingstons after him. (He had married July 9, 1679, Allida Schuyler, widow of the Rev. Nicholas Van Rensselaer.)

The records of this old church (Reformed Dutch) at Linlithgow give many references to our Karner and Stiever families

George was a son of David Stever, who was a son of Baltis Stever, a very early settler.

From The Genealogical Magazine - vol 3 - (1915-16) - p 37.
Notes on the Steiber-Stever Family

First of the name in Livingstone was Baltis Steiber or Stever, who was living there in 1764, in which year his son David Stever obtained from the Livingstons a lease of the farm on which his father lived, for his own and his wife's lives. At David's death, the estate was divided among his heirs: George Stever, George Morris, Peter Miller, Hendrick Stever, William Simmons, Andrew Showerman, and David Stever.

George Stever died Dec. 8, 1837 at age of 83. His wife Elizabeth Spikerman died Sept. 15, 1831, aged 71 yrs - 7 mo's.
The Spikerman Bible has:
Abraham Spikerman - b. 1714, married Elizabeth Righter
Children: John - b. Feb. 19, 1758
Elizabeth - b. Feb. 22, 1760
Philip - b. Aug. 9, 1763
Andrew - b. Nov. 13, 1765

Recapitulation

The foregoing data may be thought of as the pre-Egremont period for the Karner-Stiever, and Van Guilder families. -

The original Nicholas Koerner had probably died, leaving Andries Karner as the head of the family. - It was a tradition that Andrew Karner had obtained his Egremont land as a grant from the Indians, for allowing John Van Guilder, an Indian youth who had been adopted into a Dutch family, to marry his sister. Since this marriage of John Van Gelder and Mary Karner occurred in 1719, when Andrew was only a young man and yet unmarried, it would seem that his father must have been dead, for him to be the deciding person for such a marriage.

Nicholas Koerner was aged 50 in 1709, hence born probably in 1659-60 - a comparatively old man, with his oldest child only about 8 or 10 years old. Possibly older children had died or been left behind in Germany, during those difficult times. - At time of leaving Holland, he had 4 children - 2 boys and 2 girls. This was in 1709. But in 1710, he only had 3 children - 2 boys and 1 girl. Evidently the youngest daughter had died during or soon after the removal to America. -

These 3 children were:

1. Andries - born about 1702.
2. Lodowick - " " 1704-06.
3. Mary " " 1700.

Then after arrival in New York, 2 more children were born:

4. John Adam - born July 21, 1711.
5. Catherine Elizabeth - born April 30, 1714.

But since in 1717 he is only credited with 4 children, one of these younger children must also have died (probably the son Adam, since no further record of him). - Nicholas, in 1717, would be about 58 years old. It seems reasonable that he would soon be dead. - hence no further record. - The wife Magdalena no doubt was much younger (from birth of children) - and may have married again. Her name, Magdalena, was carried down, to later generations. -

The daughter Mary married John Van Gelder. If he was an Indian, as records as well as tradition state, he must have been a very exceptional one. He became a man of wealth and importance, (his son a Captain). Prominent Dutch families were sponsors for his children, etc. -

John Van Gelder, and both Andrew and Lodowick

Karner left the settlements along the Hudson river and came to live on the so-called Indian land, first in Sheffield, later in Egremont. -

The deeds and other records from this later period are given later. -

Andries Karner, as seen, married Dec. 6, 1726, Elizabeth Stiever or Stüber. She was most probably the daughter of Jacob Stüber or Stiever, and his wife Catherine (see later)

Andrew and Elizabeth Karner had the following children born during this early - "pre-Egremont" period:

1. Nicholas - bapt. Feb. 13, 1727 (prob 1727/28 J.M.K.)
2. Jacob - bapt. Oct. 19, 1729.
3. Magdalena - bapt. Oct. 2, 1737.
4. Maria - bapt. Aug. 16, 1741.

There were probably other children, whose baptismal records have not been found as yet.

During this same period John Van Gelder and his wife Mary Karner had the following children:

1. Joseph - born July 14, 1722 - bapt. Nov. 21, 1722
2. John - bapt. May 23, 1725
3. Matthew - bapt. Sept. 1, 1728.

Here too there were probably other children of whom records are not now available, especially an eldest son, Nicholas.

The Stüber - Stiever Family

Jacob Stüber or Stiever with his family also came to New York with the Palatine company in 1710. He appears on the early lists as with wife and "children". His wife's name was Catherine (as shown by early baptismal records). There probably was also a younger sister Catharine, who married, July 9, 1710, John Philip Zerbe. (she is said to be from the commune at "Hackenburgh", so probably that is where the Stübers came from). There was also a Henry Balthasar (Baltis) Stiever who was probably either a younger brother or the eldest son. - If the latter, then the "children" probably included the following:

1. Henry Balthasar - born about 1690. Married about 1711-12. Wife's name was Anna Susanna. They had children:
   David, Peter and probably others.
2. Mary Catharine. Married, Nov. 29, 1718, John George Rau. They had children:
   Jacob (b. 1721), Anna Catharina (b. 1727) and probably others. - Probably this Catherine was adm. to First Communion in 1711. - (Probably born about 1698).
3. Anna Ottilia. Married April 12, 1720, (Born prob. abt. 1700) Henry Neuss. They had children: Philip (b. 1721), Catherine (b. 1725), and probably others.

4. Anna Elizabeth. Married Dec. 6, 1726, Andreas Karner. (As given above) - She was probably adm to First Communion in 1715. (Born probably about 1702-4).

There was a Mary Elizabeth Stüber who was the wife of Philip Kuhns, who had a daughter Catharine, (born in 1721), - and who was obviously the sister of Anna Ottilia above. - Probably one or the other of these Elizabeths was the sister, rather than the daughter of Jacob Stüber-Stiever.

Later (in 1744) there was a Margaret Stiever who was the wife of Philip Kilmer. She was probably a daughter of Balthis Stiever, since David, a known son of Balthis, married Catharine Kilmer. -
Peter Stiever, son of Balthis, married Elizabeth Spickerman.
Henry " was probably another son of Balthis. He married Catharine Petri. -

The Stiever family seems to have stayed living in the Livingston Manor until comparatively recent times. -
In the old cemetery in the north end of the town of Hillsdale, Columbia Co. is buried a David P. Stever, who died Aug. 16, 1856, aged 84 (born then abt. 1772) and his wife Hannah, who died Feb. 16, 1850, aged 77 (b. 1772).
Possibly there are descendants of the Stievers living there in Columbia Co. today.

(For early deed to Andrew Karner, see Berkshire Co. deed records). -

There are no early Hampshire Co. deeds to or from Andrew Karner. His land was the other half of the Indian reservation - by grant from the Indians and the Mass. General Court.
Apparently he had not obtained a regular deed (he had a lease) from the Indians, and the title being in doubt. Andrew Karner petitioned the state Court or legislature to have his title confirmed and settled. This was done (see petition in these notes later). (In his petition he stated that, having been born in Germany, he was not familiar with the legal processes here for land holding, etc).
This petition, with signature of Andries Karner can be seen in the photostat - (to be furnished later)

When the new church was formed in 1816. Jacob and Lucy Karner were still living, but did not join. Their son, however, Stephen Karner did and was a Deacon. He was the ony actual link with the old church, as he had been baptized by the Rev. Steele on May 9, 1779.

Deacon Stephen Karner died June 28, 1849, aged 70-4-8. -
Major Plynia Karner died July 20, 1853, aged 72 yrs.
Rhoda, wife of Major P. Karner - died in 1852, aged 66 yrs.

From Town Hill Cemetery - Egremont

Jacob Karner - died Feb. 8, 1817 in his 84th year.
[born then abt 1733 - This is Jacob Karner second, eldest son of Lodowick Karner - J.M.K.]
Mrs. Lucy Karner, died Feb. 28, 1817, in her 76th year. wife of Jacob.
[She was Lucy Kellogg, born Apr. 13, 1742, a daughter of Moses Kellogg and wife Mary Belden. J.M.K.]
Levi Karner, died Jan. 1, 1818 in his 67th year
[born then abt 1751, but prob. was younger. He was 3rd son of Nicholas Karner. J.M.K.]
Polly, wife of Levi Karner - died Oct. 11, 1828, in her 60th year. [born about 1768. She is said to have been Polly Kellogg] J.M.K.

In the old Tuller graveyard in Egremont are buried the two wives of Francis Heare:
Mary, died Dec. 14, 1788 - aged 33.
[born then in 1755. She was daughter of Nicholas Karner. J.M.K.]
Betsey - died Jan 3, 1798 - aged 42.

The old Van Gilder graveyard in "the Hollow" was long ago plowed over - no vestige remains.

From the Vital Records of Sheffield:

Marriages:
Oct. 27, 1747. John Van Guilder Jr. and Catrite Carner
[Who was she? It is said in Beers' history that wife of John Van Guilder Jr was Roseannah, a dau. of Andrew Karner. - In a deed his wife signs as Catrite. - J.M.K.]
April 16, 1752. Nicholas Karner and Mary Welch
[He was the eldest son of Andrew Karner]
Dec. 13, 1757. Jacob Karner and Kathrine Taylor

[He was the second son of Andrew Karner]
March 2, 1758. Andrew Loomis and Cathrine Karner
[She was the daughter of Andrew Karner]
March 9, 1758. Jonathan Welch and Cathrine Karner
[She was the daughter of Lodowick Karner]
Dec. 14, 1758. Michael Loomis and Mary Carner
[She was the daughter of Andrew Karner]
Dec. 14, 1758. David Winchell and Mattaline Carner
[I think this is just a mistake for Joseph Winchell. David Winchel had just died - and no other David was there. Mattaline - for Magdalena - was the daughter of Andrew Karner - whose husband we knew from deeds, etc. was Joseph Winchell, not David. - Date is same as for marriage of Michael Loomis and Mary Karner, daughter of Andrew. A double wedding - of sisters probably - J.M.K.]
Nov. 11, 1760. Matthew Baits and Magdalene Karner.
[I think this was probably the "Matilda", dau. of Lodowick Karner - J.M.K.]

From the Kellogg Genealogy book:

Among the children of Moses Kellogg and wife Mary Belden were: Lucy - born April 13, 1742 married Jacob Karner ("the second") Titus - born June 4, 1765.
married 1st Rhoda Karner [She died Dec. 8, 1788, aged 23 - born then abt 1765. She was the dau. of Nicholas Karner - J.M.K.]

Belden Kellogg, son of Lieut. Stephen Kellogg & wife Mindwell Belden, married 1st, in 1786, Tabitha Karner [She died in March 1792.] [She too was a daughter of Nicholas Karner - J.M.K.]

A daughter of Jacob and Lucy Karner was:
Mary (Polly) Karner - born April 1767. She married, about 1785, Elijah Kellogg, son of Deacon William Kellogg (brother of Lieut Stephen and Moses Kellogg) She died Jan. 29, 1835. He died Dec. 26, 1839. They had gone to Elizabethtown, New York.

From the Loomis genealogy - (old edition 1875)
(corrected from later revised edition)
The Loomis brothers - Michael, Andrew and Daniel - who married daughters of Andrew Karner, also Josiah Loomis Jr. who married Jane (Janetje) daughter of Lodowick Karner, were all sons of Josiah Loomis, of Simsbury and Egremont [the storm center character of the border troubles between Mass. & New York men in the 1750's] -
Josiah Loomis, of Simsbury, was born at Windsor

March 11, 1708/9 (the son of Josiah Loomis of Windsor and Simsbury). He married, April 26, 1732, Abigail Bacon of Middletown.

Their children were:

1. Elizabeth, born March 6, 1733. Married Joel Crippen.
2. Abigail, born 1735 - died 1737.
3. Josiah Jr., born May 19, 1737 - Married (Deborah Williams - so says the book - we know he married Jane Carner)
4. Andrew, born May 23, 1739. [married 1, Thankful "Catharine, dau of Andrew Karner" who died 1808. m 2 Sibyl - He died 1820 at Lenox - no children - Here the book confuses him with a younger Andrew - perhaps his son. J.M.K.]
5. (Capt. Michael, born Sept 5, 1741. - married Mary Carver (sic - corrected to Karner) - Dec. 14, 1758. He died 1793 at Egremont.
6. Abijah, born March 10, 1743/4. - Married, March 30 1768, Mary Kellogg. died 1820, Greene, Chenango Co. N.Y.
7. Sarah, born Oct. 10, 1748.
8. Daniel, born April 4, 1750 - Mar (1) Sarah Webb. (2) "Mrs." Elizabeth Winchell, who died Sept 5, 1825 aged 80 "dau of Andrew Karner". He died July 21, 1833, at North Egremont (This was Elizabeth Karner, dau of Andrew Karner, widow of Azariah Winchell - J.M.K.)
9. Benajah, born July 15, 1752. Died March 8, 1838 - went to Smithville, N.Y. Married (1) Rachel Patterson, Nov. 15, 1771 - (2) Prudence Corbin.-
10. Rachel, born March 11, 1755. Mar. Nov. 11, 1783 Jacob Kline. She d. Apr. 11, 1804

There was also an elder Benajah Loomis - born Jan. 28, 1710/11, son of Josiah of Windsor and Simsbury. - He married Temperance Moore Jan. 17, 1728/9. Lived at Ancram, in the Livingston Manor.
His brother Jacob Loomis - born Nov. 26, 1720 lived at Taghconic, N.Y.

From History of Berkshire Co. (Beers & Co. 1885)
Vol. 1 - p 678 etc. Town of Egremont - by Henry Warner

The account here of the Karner family is very confused and inaccurate. He confuses the various Andrew Karners and so telescopes the children, etc. - There were really three Andrew Karners living there in Egremont at one time: Andrew the elder, Andrew "second" who was a son of Lodowick, and Andrew "Junior" who was a son of Nicholas and grandson of the first Andrew.

He does say that Andrew Karner died in 1781, aged 81, which is probably near the truth. He also says: "In his will, drawn by Rev. Steele he gave all his land then leased out to descendants of Roseannah, wife of John Van Guilder Jr. These leases expired about 1832, but the heirs were not able to enforce their claims". - There is, actually, no record of such a will in the Pittsfield Probate office!

He says the site of Andrew Karner's house was in the northwest angle of the highway leaving Guilder Hollow for Mt. Washington. - [Probably not true. More likely he lived near his mill on the brook - where village of South Egremont now is. J.M.K.]

As to Jacob Karner - his statements would seem to be correct. This is Jacob Karner the "second", who died in 1817. The children are given as:

1. Ludowick
2. Silas
3. Stephen
4. Plyna
5. Pamelia

He gives the children of Levi Karner with dates as:

1. Dimmis - b. 1796 mar 1815 Col. Ephraim Baldwin
2. Sir Lanslet - b 1799
3. Sabra - b 1802
4. Andrew - b 1804
5. Sophronia - b 1806 d 1849
6. Levi Jr. - b 1809 - d 1866
7. Zadock - b 1811

As to the Van Guilders: he says that Andrew Van Guilder removed to Georgia, Vermont, "from where in 1819 he sold 1/3 part of the land in Egremont leased by his father for 99 years"

To return to the matter of the Indian Land.

Taylor's History of Great Barrington (last expanded edition of 1928) - gives the best corrected account of this

"Westenhook" was a name usually applied to a tract of country west of Sheffield and Great Barrington - now a part of Mt. Washington and Egremont. Of course there was the large New York grant of that name covering a much larger area, on which New York claims were based. - "Westenhoek" itself was the creek or river, a Dutch equivalent for the Indian name "Housetenuc" - presently "Housatonic". [Note: Andrew Karner was said to be of "Westenhoek" in notice of his marriage in 1726]

In the Appendix III - p. 573 to Taylor's book is given a copy of the deed from the Housatonic Indians (taken from the record book of the Upper Housatonic Propriety.)

There were 19 Indians named in the body of the deed, headed by "Con-Ke-pott", and including as next to the last, John Vangilder. There are 21 signers however - again headed by Konkapot and with John Vangilder next to the last. These Indians are said to be all of "Housatonock alias Westenook".

For 460£, "3 barrels of Sider" and 30 quarts of Rum, to the committee for settling (Col. Stoddard, Capt. John Ashley, Capt. Henry Dwight and Capt. Luke Hitchcock). "in order for ye settling of two towns there" etc.

a certain tract is granted - (described and bounded). "ye Indians Resarve to themselfe within ye aforesaid "Tract of Land" etc. - between two brooks - from the river westward to "ye Patten of ye Collony of New York", together with a clear meadow beyond the northerly brook extending to "ye aforesaid White river [now it is called the Green river J.M.K.] The Indians state they have a good and perfect title which is clear, etc. - The date is April 25, 1724. The witnesses were Conrad Borghhart, Benjamin Smith, John Gunn Jr. and Samuel Bartlett. - The Indians, including Konkepot and John Van Gilder apparently, personally appeared and acknowledged this deed, at Westfield before Judge John Ashley on April 25, 1724.

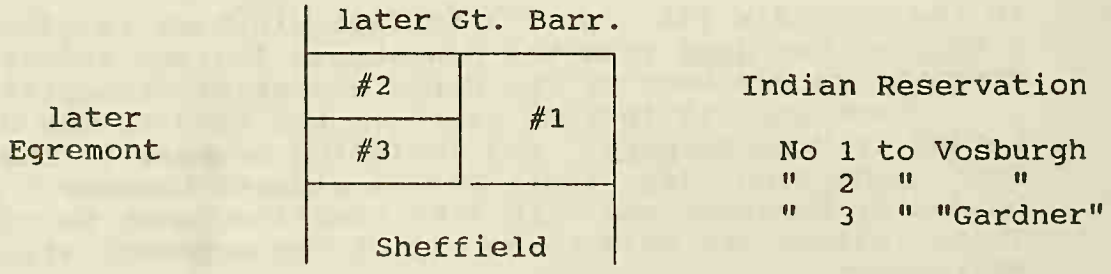
When the township of Stockbridge was established for the Indians in 1736, they - the Indians - relinquished this reservation, given in the above deed. White proprietors up above the Mountain who had to move out were to be recompensed for removal by a new grant of this old Indian reservation or land elsewhere. -

There are no official records of just how this was done, but in Col. Stoddard's papers was found an unfinished memorandum of some of this transaction.

Among those living above the mountain to move out was "Arent Gardiner" who owned 1 right and "Isaac Forsberry" [Vosburgh] who owned 2 rights above and 1 below. In arranging the equivalents, the committee gave to Isaac Vosburgh for his 2 rights above - an equivalent "at the eastern end of the Indian land in Sheffield" and for his other right below, they bought it and held it for a minister, and gave him an equivalent, also in the Indian land.

To "Arent Gardiner" for his right above they gave "the other south part of the Indian land".

Taylor says that this was just the land in Sheffield, and not in Egremont (but it seems to me that Vosburgh's was the part in Sheffield, and "Gardiner's" perhaps that in Egremont, that is the "south part" of the latter - possibly it was like this



We know when Vosburgh deeded to John Tuller that farm of 320 acres it was up there in northwest corner of Sheffield.

Book 1, p 219. Berkshire Deeds -
Isaac Fosbury, formerly of Sheffield now of Simsbury (Conn.) for 300£ to John Tuller - 320 acres in Sheffield - "it being part of the reserved land of the Indians, now commonly known as the Indian land" - "bounded north on the north line of that land - to extend south 3/4 the width of said land - west on the west line of sd. township of Sheffield - and to extend east so far as to make the quantity aforesaid". Dated Dec. 19, 1758. - Recorded May 31, 1762.
?[This is the Tuller place where the old house dated 1761 now stands east of village of South Egremont, which farm, on request, was transferred from Sheffield to Egremont - and makes an odd projection, even today. J.M.K.]
There was no mention of Van Gelder in this paper, which however was not a full report - had no date - and evidently was written before the committee finished their business.
[Later John Van Gilder said he and Andrew Karner had a grant "from the General Court" J.M.K.]
Taylor says that Isaac Vosburgh came and lived on his east end of the Indian land, and "Arent Gardiner is supposed to have moved onto the Indian land to the westward of Vosburgh".
[No such person as "Arent Gardiner" appears in any later records. Most probably this was Andrew Karner! - Note that in his lease from the Indians of 1740 he is several times called "Gardner". J.M.K.]
When the exchange for the Indians was made, they were asked (General Court Records - Vol 29, p 309 - quoted by Taylor) "Are you willing to let that land go to the Committee or General Court, where John Gilder lives, the land you reserved for yours when you sold the land to the committee, that so some of the proprietors in the Upper Housatunnock may have the land in part as an equivalent for the land we now design to let you have?"
The answer was: "Yes, we are willing to resign the land you speak of, etc. -
But Konkapot said the Indians had allowed "three Dutch people to live upon the east of Tocomock mountain" as he supposed on the reserved land, and he desired that the government would not take from these Dutchmen the land which they had actually improved -
On March 25, 1736 the General Court empowered the committee to dispose of the reserved land -
[and so this probably explains their "grant from the General Court" spoken of later by Van Gilder and Andrew Karner. No doubt they were two of the three "Dutchmen" already living there - Probably Lodowick Karner was the third - J.M.K.]
Taylor - p 61, says "it does not appear the committee disposed of the western part of the reservation in Egremont" However, in 1740 the Indians executed a lease for 99 years to Andrew Karner, of a considerable portion of the tract lying in Egremont.
[Note: His petition to the General Court, Oct. 26, 1771, states that the Indians gave 1/2 the reserved land - in Egremont to him and the remainder to John Van Gilder] -

Originally on this reserved land in the extreme north part of Sheffield - in 1734 anyway, - lived Chief Umpachene with 4 other families. - It was called "Skatekook" (pronounced as Scot-kook) - While Konkapot and 4 or 5 other families lived in what became Stockbridge.

On Nov. 2, 1735, Capt. Konkapot, his wife and daughter were baptized - as "John, Mary, & Catherine" before a large group of "Indians and whites - mostly Dutchmen who had settled in the river valley". - On Nov. 16, 1735, Lieut. Umpachene, wife and children were baptized.

The Indians later seemed to claim the western lands, and finally on Jan. 12, 1763, for 1700£ the Indians headed by "John Pophnehonnuckwok alias Konkapot" and 19 others of the "Muh-huk-kunnock River Indians or Housatonnock tribe" formerly relinquished all claims (except the town of Stockbridge). Recorded at Pittsfield - Book 2. p 172.

[As we know, John Van Guilder got a deed from the Indians for his land, and Andrew Karner got his lease, and later had it confirmed by the General Court. John Van Gilder deeded over one part of his land to Lodowick Karner - and I think this accounts for the "three Dutchmen" and how they were confirmed in their ownership of the land, where they had settled, probably as early as 1725. J.M.K.]

Living where they did, it was natural for the Van Gilder and Karner families to be involved in the Border troubles in the 1750's. -

Doc. History of New York - vol 3 - in the Papers relating to the Manor of Livingston, give the official documents of these events. The Mass. Archives also have many notices. There are few specific references to the Van Gilders or Karners, however.

Doc. Hist - vol 3 -p 473. - A statement about the raid on the Ancram iron works on May 6, 1755, when a large party carried off (eventually to the gaol at Springfield) several of the directors and foremen of the Iron works, on the suspicion of their having been implicated in the "murder" of William Race - (in the early morning of April 15, 1755). - The raiding party is said to have included:

Robert Noble, Andries Race, John Van Gelden, an Indian, Joseph Van Gelden an Do". There was said to have been 103 in the party all told -

On May 7, 1757, there was a fight at the house of Jonathan Darbie - shots were fired and one of the attackers (Livingston adherents) was killed. In the house were: Johannes Reese, Joseph Van Gelder and his brother, said to be Andries Van Gelder, Andries Jan Reese, Samuel Taylor, etc.

As a result an official warrant was issued for the arrest of Robert Noble and his associates - on June 8, 1757.

In the Berkshire Co. Hist. & Scientific Society Collections - Vol 1 (1892) there is an article by Franklin L. Pope on

The Western Boundary of Massachusetts

This seems to be written in a very biased and prejudicial way, and it is doubtful if it is reliable. He says:

In Nov. 1756, Livingston attempted to oust Henry Brusie, but found his place defended by Benjamin Franklin and "aided by John Van Gilder, the Indian patriarch of Guilder Hollow and one of his sons". A melee ensued, in which one of the Livingston men "was shot dead by the elder Van Guilder", but he and his son were captured and lodged in the Albany jail.

"The remaining Van Guilders vowed vengeance and set out for Stockbridge, threatening to return at the head of the whole tribe" (of Indians). The Manor house was guarded, but the raid was prevented by the efforts of Sir William Johnson, the Supt. of Indian Affairs -

The article would make it appear that Robert Noble and Josiah Loomis (with their more disreputable followers) were more or less the tools of David Ingersoll, the real unscrupulous villain of the piece.

Mass. Archives Vol 116 - f427
is a paper giving a list of proprietors above and below the Mt. (in a report reviewing the work of the committee - and very critically! J.M.K.)
It includes - above the mountain:
"Aaron Gardenour" - 400 acres -
below the mountain:
"Isaac Flosbury" - 400 acres
David Winchell - 400 "
etc. -

[There was a "Gardenier" family over around Claverack, associated later with the Vosburgs - so perhaps there was such a person - J.M.K.]

From Mass. Archives - vol 118 - f.567-569
Petition of Anderes Carner, living on land west of Sheffield.

"When the Indians who lived on and claimed the lands now Sheffield made the sale of said township to the English" - "they reserved for themselves a tract" - "about 3/4 of a mile in width, from the river westward to a Mountain" etc. - this was "not only through Sheffield but extended west 860 rods beyond Sheffield west line".
"Part of said reserved land" in Sheffield the committee exchanged for some rights of the Proprietors of Upper Housatonick - etc. - "The remainder of sd. reserved land, which lay west of Sheffield west line, and between said line and Taukonnuck mountain", "the Indian claimers and owners gave one-half to your petitioner and the other half to John Van Guilder - the north half of sd. reserved land lying west of Sheffield west line to your petitioner, and the south half to John Van Guilder -" "your petitioner having been some years on the said tract of land, having settled the same more than 40 years ago." - - informs you "that 31 years ago the Court of General Sessions of the Peace of Hampshire Co. gave your petitioner liberty to take a lease of said claiming Indians for 99 years" - "your petitioner being entirely ignorant of the manner of Titles in this country, having been born in Germany" - - "but now after 40 years labour in bringing to improvement a wilderness farm - your petitioner is informed that he stands in need of a more sure title" - - also informs you "that your petitioners lease does not extend to the said Taukonnuck mountain by 82 rods. Which said tract of 82 rods and half the width of said reserved land was given by the sd. Indians, who claimed the same, to your petitioner" - and he, your pet - "accordingly, many years ago entered into the improvement of the same"

Wherefore, prays for your wise consideration etc - and to have you confirm to him 1/2 (paper torn) the sd. reserved land west of west line of Sheffield, that is to say -- (torn) - on the north side of sd reserved Indian land - extending from the west line of Sheffield to the said Tauconnuck mountain, "where the known west boundary of sd. reserved land does terminate".
Lands west of Sheffield (Signed) Anderes Carner.
Oct. 26, 1771
In House of Rep - April 15, 1772, petition read etc.- allowed- title granted and confirmed to sd Anderes Carner, etc. - "provided he fulfill & perform the conditions of sd lease and all other agreements between sd Carner and the Indians" etc.
Read & concurred in, in the Council, April 18, 1772

Then follows - folio 572 - a copy of the lease from the Indians, as I have copied it from Berkshire Deed Book 23, p 208 - (in p 23 of these notes.)

Mass. Archives - Vol 105 - f591 - 592 - 593 -
Petition from the people who were in this party "to apprehend the murderers of William Race" - "went to sd Taykonok & were gone 3 days & nights at our own charges" etc. They ask for compensation - the promised reward etc - (say they are 105 in number). The signatures appear to be actual ones of the persons and include:
John Van Gelden Senior (looks like a real signature)
Aaron Loomis, Philip, John Callender etc.
The House of Rep. on April 27, 1758, voted 100£ for this purpose - but the Council "read and not concurred in"

From Mass Archives - Vol 32 ("Indians") folio 750 - Deposition of James Connor of Sheffield sworn, at Manor of Livingston 29 Nov. 1756

"On last Saturday -Nov. 27"- he heard Nicholas Van Gilden, son to John Van Gilden, say he would have Timothy Connor dead or alive - that he would burn Mr. Livingston's house over his head - and further that he went to intercede with the Stockbridge indians to assist him in taking Mr. Connor - and that his brother Jacob Van Gilden went up with him to Stockbridge - and further that some of the people of Sheffield said they had rather that John Van Gilden had killed the man at Taukhanick than a white man, and they believe that John Van Gilden's sons would be assisted by the Indians of Stockbridge - and further that Nicholas Van Gilden said that if he could get no assistance from the Stockbridge Indians he would go to the Mohawks for assistance."

Signed by his mark,

Vol. 32. fol 751

A letter from Timothy Woodbridge to Lt. Gov. Phips
Dated at Stockbridge Dec. 15, 1756.
- on Nov. 25, "our day of publick Thanksgiving", a company of about 100 men appeared in arms at sd. Taukonnock - dispossessed people - 2 families turned out & houses pulled down etc. - "there happened to be at Taukonnock three Indians of the Stockbridge tribe, who belonged to Sheffield, and also one Englishman - these persons appearing dissatisfied with such violent measures (tho it is said made no opposition)" - Mr. Livingston's party undertook to make them prisoners and "in the affray one of the sd. Indians shot one of the other party to death - the Indian that killed the man his name is John Vanguilder," - "he, one of his sons, and a man named Franklin, was all taken and committed to Albany jail, in irons, who I hear suffer extreamly" - As the persons are subjects of this Government and the place is in dispute "our Indians are desirous those persons should be demanded from that Gov. into this, for trial, "which perhaps all things considered there is good reason for"
